HAPPY NEW YEAR; ONE COLLECTIVE RESOLUTION?

New Year is a time for dreaming. For centuries men, women and children have made New Year resolutions with a dream for a better world for oneself and others. There are skeptics who scorn the idea of making resolutions and breaking them the very next day, if not on the same day. There are plenty of statistics too to prove that not more than ten percent do stick to the resolutions. However, we humans continue to make them.

Why do we, then, make resolutions? It definitely is part of a vision-driven living. It is only when you have a long term vision for your personal and communitarian life that you want to make resolutions and strive to live up to them. 'New Year's resolutions are, as one author wrote, a triumph of hope over experience. They're a way to quantify what we wish for ourselves. They are a means to cataloguing our personal dissatisfactions. And, perhaps most importantly, they are a method of erasing errors of the past year... Yes, New Year's resolutions are all about hopefulness.'

Here is a suggestion: Can we for a change make a resolution for the community/ whole Province? A collective resolution? If you feel like it send it to me. We could collate them and pass around!

May the New Year be a year of blessings!

M.K. George SJ

Fr Provincial was here to bless the statue at a prayer service in the presence of the Jesuit community, the staff and students of the school. It was the realization of a great dream of the Jesuits who worked here during the past 57 years. Fr Provincial exhorted the students to follow the Jesuit ideal of 'MAGIS' - excellence, in all their pursuits.

Another significant event of the month was a mega gathering of the former students of the School on Dec 23. Due to the floods, the roads to the Vocational Training Centre at Aymanam were damaged. So we had to transfer the equipments of vocational training to Gandhinagar. We have submitted 14 more applications, mainly for repair of houses and one for construction of a new house in place of a totally damaged one.

All the teachers attended a three-day refresher programme on evaluation of students according to the new curriculum provided by the State Government.
