“Ask (intensely) for Consolation”

When Pope Francis addressed GC 36 on October 24, 2016 he exhorted the members to ask intensely for consolation. Those who participated remember how his address itself and the interaction that followed were deeply consoling moments. Seeking consolation, the Pope says, is an important element of the Spiritual Exercises. It is meant to animate us Jesuits 24x7 to become truly contemplatives in action. How could we seek consolation in the midst of a pandemic? Even our very ordinary conversation is about the virus, the lockdown and the mounting number of victims. But that must not be the last word. It is time we look at “Ignatian tools”, as James Matin puts it, more seriously. Ignatius began to recognize consolation in the sick bed. The Ignatian journey that we just celebrated was a reminder to seek consolation amidst adversities.

We are on a cancellation mode. Life online appears to be the new normal, perhaps for a while. With all its limitations, we had successful online meetings of superiors, schoolmen and scholastics. I add a word of appreciation to all who made the Ignatian Novena a moving experience reaching beyond boundaries. The digital medium offers us new possibilities to move beyond in a truly Ignatian way. Stay safe, stay healthy!

FROM OUR INSTITUTIONS

CHRIST HALL, KOZHIKODE

The nine days of the novena to St Ignatius was walking the Camino Ignaciano experience for the community. Themes proposed for each day were most suiting to invigorate ourselves at a time when humanity at large is shattered by a despairing crisis caused by COVID-19 pandemic. A day of recollection was observed from 29th evening, praying for the grace to choose always what better leads God's deepening His life in me. We thank Fr K J Thomas for guiding the recollection and our scholastics for conducting the nine days novena laudably well. Hats off to Fr Deepak and team for bringing out a brilliant audio-visual novena built on events and texts from Ignatian tradition. Feast day celebration was modest this year, and we limited it to the community skipping the usual gathering of collaborators. Fr Provincial was the main celebrant for the feast day solemn Eucharist and in his homily, he reflected on the theme consolation in the sickbed drawing a parallel between the experience of St Ignatius and the present scenario.

On the previous day, the community celebrated the Feast with the co-workers. Scholastics made the day memorable for all with fun-games and entertainment. Fr EJ Thomas guided a five-day retreat in preparation for the diaconate ordination of a group of seminarians of Calicut Diocese. We celebrated the birthday of our regent Sch George Karupallyil on July 27. Schs Dijin, Vysakh and Frangle left for the Northeast for their regency in the first week of August. We wish and pray that the Lord May bless them in their new mission.

SARVODAYA, EACHOME

Down the years, Sarvodaya School has always strived for better results. By the grace of God and teamwork of the Staff, Management and PTA, the school secured an excellent result in Plus Two and SSLC with 100% and 97% respectively. In Plus Two section, Sarvodaya is the only one school that secured 100% among government or aided schools in Wayanad. 18 Tribal students in Plus Two section and 22 students in SSLC section are eligible for higher studies. The good result has definitely contributed to boost the morale of the school, and it organized a Webinar on "Courses & Career after SSLC and Guidelines for Single Window Plus One Admission" for SSLC passed students. 60 students with their parents attended the Webinar. The school is in full swing with "Mission Plus One Help Desk", an online admission support centre. Fr Biju George is appointed as a member of covid-19 Rapid Resource Team (RRT) of Panamaram Panchayat by the Collector & Chairperson of District Disaster Management Authority, Wayanad.

Sr Jessy Paul CMC, HM, Sarvodaya HSS organised a beautiful online assembly as well as a short meeting to honour Jesuits who work in the School and in TUDI on the occasion of the feast of Ignatius. The Principal, HM, PTA president and student representatives spoke on St Ignatius and the great services Jesuits do all over the world. The Jesuit Community celebrated the feast this year in a simple way considering the pitiable condition of people in Wayanad due to the spread of Covid -19 and the heavy monsoon. As the online classes are progressing, students and parents are in touch with their class teachers on a regular basis. The Grama-panchayat is offering special educational support to ST, SC and poor children with the co-operation of our staff. Text books and food material kits are distributed to children ward wise

LOYOLA, ALUVA

The month of July gave us a fresh start with the group dynamics and feedback session in the first week. On July 3, the new arrivals completed their First Probation and joined the community. They were ceremoniously welcomed by the second years. On the same day, all zonal Jesuits arrived in Loyola for a gathering and also for the send-off ceremony of Fr Jose Jacob. Sch Ivin completed his quarantine period and shared his regency experience in Nepal with us. The novena in preparation for the Ignatian feast started on 22nd and the novices got involved in the prayer service with great enthusiasm and creativity. We were blessed to have a 3-day course on communication skills and constructive criticism well guided by Fr Jacob kumminiyil. We started our feast celebrations with a solemn Mass presided over by Fr Jacob Madukakuzhy.

Abbey&Simson

SAMEEKSHA/ ATMAMITHRA, KALADY

As a consequence of Covid-19, Sameeksha has become a formation house again. Three Juniors Adolf, Poly, and Tomson, joined with the community on July 1st, and Schs Affin, Ajith, and Ivin began their stay here on 23rd. Since the common Juniorate in Tiruvanathapuram has been suspended, the 'Juniors' are going through an intensive Juniorate programme with the help of the Sameeksha community and special teachers like Schs Ivin and Nikhil. The community participated in the zonal gathering that took place at Loyola, Aluva. Schs Akho Charles and Daniel Khyriem, the SICJ Juniors of Kohima region spent a week with us on their way back home. They took some sessions introducing their home states and the Kohima Region. Bp. Jacob Murikkan, the Auxiliary Bishop of Palai Diocese made his three-days recollection here. We got an opportunity to listen to him for half an hour.

We prepared ourselves spiritually for the feast of St Ignatius with a novena that began on the 22nd. Fr Toby guided the recollection. A webinar for the neighbouring religious and our well-wishers was organized on 30th to wish them the feast. Fr Sebastian Painadath gave a message, and around 35 people including Fr George Pattery, the POSA, participated. On the feast day, we had a community Mass and a feast day sadya with our staff members. Fr Immanuel officiated the live mass from Kalady Parish and Fr Toby gave the Ignatian message. We distributed Steel Sanitizer Pumps to our houses and provided buckets and mugs at the First Line Treatment Centre (FLTC) of Kanjoor Panchayat at St Sebastian's School, Kanjoor.

Atmamitra has concluded the 6th batch of online programmes on various topics. Many Jesuits, young priests and scholastics, have attended some of these. The programmes hosted with non Jesuit resource persons are also clicking well. We have had one batch of 43 people for the Body Language and Graphology programme by Fr Arul Xavier, OFM (Cap). The other resource persons were Mr. John Rollince for TA, Fr Mathew Vengaloor, OCD (Faridabad) and Fr Robin Vattathara (Diocese of Kanjirappally) for Ignite Prosper NLP (fourth level). Thus our online programmes are becoming truly collaborative ventures. Fr Toby gave a webinar on improving family bonding during the Corona context on 29th July, and inaugurated Holistic Growth Academy, a project launched by three Atmamitra trainees.

LUMEN-JYOTHIS, KOCHI

Fr Devassy Paul moved in and took charge as the Acting Superior of the Community during the Eucharistic celebration on 03 July. On the same day evening we had a solemn zonal level gathering of Jesuits at Loyola Aluva. Binoy presented a paper on Dimensions of Racism: Transforming Structures Towards Building Peace in the webinar held under the aegis of Little Flower College, Uppal, Hyderabad. The second issue of the bimonthly PAX LUMINA was published in July with the theme: Justice for Migrants. Newman Association had its monthly meeting online to celebrate the feast of St Ignatius. Fr Adappur attended the meeting via google meet. Adv. Roy Chacko delivered the commemoration speech. Justice Kurian Joseph, Smt. Lida Jacob, IAS (Retd.), and Dr. K. Babu Joseph, spoke on the occasion. The Jesuit core group meeting of Ezhuthu Magazine was held online last week. While acknowledging the role of Ezhuthu in the intellectual and cultural enhancement of its readers, a few pertinent suggestions were put forth to improve the quality and circulation of the publication. LIPI is all set to launch a series of science talks from this month onward. The community generously joined the neighbourhood in their initiative to extend a helping hand to the suffering brethren in the sea-ravaged coastal areas of Chellanam.

AKJM HSS & SAMANVAYA, KANJIRAPPALLY

With the arrival of Scholastics Nibin Manuel & Jaison Joseph and Fr Jose Jacob, our Community now has a strength of 13, an all-time record! The S.S.LC and Plus Two results were excellent, and our school got cent percent result in the Higher Secondary examination. Ours is the only school in the Kanjirappally Educational district to achieve that. The community celebrated the Sacerdotal Golden Jubilee of Fr K.C. Thomas on 25th. Bishop Mar Jose Pulickal gave a beautiful message online highlighting Fr K.C.'s generous contributions to the diocese. Frs M.K. George & E.P. Mathew, as well as the Provincial of the SABS Congregation offered online greetings to the Jubilarian. The joint birthday celebration of Frs Stephen & Salvin had two parts – at the community level and at the school level. Then the feast of St Ignatius was celebrated with a triduum and Community Mass. The presence of the youngsters made the celebrations vibrant and joyful.

In the school, a studio was inaugurated on 31st July. The very first program to be launched from the new studio was a special school assembly highlighting the feast of St. Ignatius. Bishop Mar Jose Pulickal showed his deep love for the school with a touching message to the AKJM family. This programme was viewed by practically all our students, and many of their parents as well as several well-wishers. Our daily online assembly has become very popular among the parents and students and it creates a new platform for the students to showcase their talents even on lockdown days.

SANTHINILAYAM, KOTTAYAM

A book titled Njangalude Swantham Palliathan on Fr Abraham Pallivathukal is published by Jesus Youth. It was released online by Bishop Raphael Thattil on July 26th. The book comprises of fifty seven articles by people from different walks of life who were influenced and guided by Palliathan during their faith journey in Jesus Youth. Our community takes pride in our member who is recognized and appreciated internationally. Sch Steeve joined our community on June 29th in order to complete his graduate studies at MG University. Fr Provincial made an online 'visitation' of the community to know the developments here, and it was the first such attempt in the province, we are told. It lasted an hour without any technical glitch. We missed one thing, though: the special meal! Fr Sunny is busy helping the Covid- distressed people through online counselling.

AADI, ATTAPPADI

Fr Binu Michael was given a warm send-off at a gathering of about 40 people including AADI and Lok Munch staff. It was organised in the Kalakendram hall keeping all the protocols of the lockdown. St Antony's Parish, Nellipathy, where he was the Assistant Parish Priest, organized another send off for him. AADI thanks Fr Binu for his two-year service to AADI, particularly for developing the Eco-Centre. We had dinner with the AADI staff members for the feast of St Ignatius. AADI has started a YouTube channel named 'AADI SRISHTI' to promote tribal folk art and culture. It is free of cost, and all invited to subscribe to it. Fr P.S. Antony organised a number of innovative online programmes. Three Webinars were held: on Mental Health, Gender, and Child Protection. He also organised a virtual placement for M.S.W students of Gem College, Malapuram as a substitute for their field work. There were regular Zoom meetings both for AADI and Lok Munch staff.

PIUS X JESUIT HOUSE, EDATHUA

Our community has become vibrant with the arrival of Br George Vattukulam and Fr Rubil Martin. Fr K P Mathew was given a warm send off by the community and the Parish community. The lockdown due to the pandemic was a blessing in disguise for Pius X ITI because we could complete the restructuring work without interruption and disturbance. Developments at Pius X are taking place at three levels. In the farm sector we planted seventy four coconut saplings in the water logged areas over sand heaps using JCB. Most of the saplings were home grown. Plantains were chosen for the rest of the vacant area. A duck farm also is yielding good results. The second sector of development is related to the infrastructure of the ITI. We have constructed a new front gate with a wide road up to the ITI office. All the seven labs were restructured as per the NCVT (National Council for Vocational Training) directives. We have

LOYOLA, MUKUNDARA

The 2019-20 batch of Loyola school had excelled in the ICSE Board Examination with flying colours by securing cent percent pass. Twenty students appeared for the exam, and eighteen of them received distinction and two got first class. Loyola school conducted online-midterm examinations for the students. Due to the lockdown, the school had to cancel the teachers' English training programme. Our community went through a spiritual journey for the feast of St Ignatius but without any external celebration.

installed CCTV in vital areas and introduced digital signature system using face recognition technology for teachers and students. With the help of Fr Sunil Padannamakkel, we have acquired new instruments from Delhi to replace those damaged in the floods of 2018. The third area was the ongoing formation of our teachers. During the lockdown, our teachers were given sessions on the characteristics of Jesuit education aimed at proper motivation and attitudinal change. Online classes for students have begun and most teachers have become familiar with the online platform. Fr Rubil is coordinating the online classes. Fr Pullattu is active with spiritual ministry in and around.

SANTIGRAM-ICTA, KALAMASSERY

After seven years of service at Santigram, as Administrator and Family Counsellor, Fr Wilson left for Pachilakkad. The send-off was a quiet affair due to the lockdown, but the ICTA Governing Council got together to give him a fitting farewell. They were very appreciative of the services rendered by him all through these years. A big "Thank you" to Fr Binoy Pichalakkattu who found time to take Wilson up to Wynad though he had to make detours in his travel plans. Fr Saji Kandasankunnel reached here early enough to familiarize himself with the work and the place; he is now in full swing as Administrator. As the new administrator, he is getting the place cleaned and organized for the coming months, hoping we will be able to hold programmes without having to wait too long. His technical expertise is evident as he goes about doing his new job. And he has just started counseling work too though it will take some time for people to know of his presence as the new counsellor.

Fr M J Thomas was engaged in a month-long retreat for a group of MSJ sisters in Santigram itself. Fr Ephrem directed a 6-day retreat for some presentation sisters from Kanjoor.

SNEHARAM, ANJENGO

Frequent and sudden lockdown announcements have already inflicted a heavy toll on the lives and livelihood opportunities of fishing-dependent communities in Anjengo. But compulsions of daily sustenance force them to fend for themselves, and hence they are unable to adhere to the safety measures prescribed by the government. They await the dawn of August 5 2020 to resume fishing operations, but the Jagratha Samithi is worried about keeping the COVID-19 protocol. It is inevitable to limit the number of fishing boats and regulate the auctioning of fish. Limited road transport and internet connectivity has affected higher education opportunities of the coastal students. So we are trying to improve higher education opportunities through the Jesuit World-wide Learning (JWL) programmes. Sneharam was hopeful of starting a graduation programme, namely 'BA in Sustainable Development', but it was hampered when the area was declared a containment zone on the very day we had an online 'Cambridge Linguaskill Test' for the aspiring students.

While we were in containment zone, the health workers who made Sneharam their home for a week had to leave on the third day since one team member was tested positive. Our cook's sister was isolated and some neighbours are hospitalised or isolated. The situation has been exacerbated since another line of houses along the coastal belt has been eaten up by the sea. People are looking forward to getting outside support from willing and generous partners.

JEA (Jesuit Educational Association - Kerala Province)

The Corona virus pandemic has proven challenging for schools and parents in educating children. It is a chance for our schools to confront those challenges with courage.

We are called to respond to the most immediate exigencies to ensure a regular conclusion to the academic year and organize for the future to be able to discern opportunities which this crisis could offer us. In order to reflect on the challenging situation and assess our responses and share our good practices, JEA organised an online core committee meeting. One of the decisions was to orient our teachers, particularly the newly appointed ones, of our schools on Jesuit Education and Legacy.

The first webinar for the newly appointed teachers on Jesuit Education and Legacy was conducted on 1 July 2020. Fr. Norbert Menezes SJ, former JEASA Secretary and the current PCE of Patna Province, led the session. The session was appreciated by the participants. In order to help the teachers understand the depth of Jesuit Education and Legacy, follow up questions were given for reflection and assimilation. JEA will also be organising a number of online training programmes for our collaborators in the coming months.

The first online annual general body meeting of JEA was held on 11 July. Fr E.P. Mathew, Provincial, gave a short key note address. 26 Jesuits who are involved in school ministry attended the meeting. Principals/DOW of the schools presented their reports, and it was followed by sharing and discussion. It was a great opportunity to listen to the achievements, challenges and concerns of each school and support one another. One of the decisions was to share our resources and good practises with each other. This year, our schools have achieved great results in SSLC, Plus2, CBSE, ICSE, and ISC. However, in order to instil the spirit of MAGIS and academic excellence in our schools, JEA conducted a short evaluation on the academic results of each school.

IGNATIAN TOOLS FOR TODAY

To kick off Ignatian Month celebrations in early July, the Ateneo de Manila's Office for Ministry and Identity invited the American Jesuit Fr James Martin SJ to give a talk on "Ignatian Tools for Today". Fr Jim, as he is popularly known, is probably one of the most recognisable Jesuits in mass media—the bestselling author is the editor at large of the Jesuit publication America Magazine and was appointed by Pope Francis as consultant to the Vatican's Secretariat for Communications.

The Philippine audience was excited for the talk, with nearly 700 people on Zoom to hear Fr Martin.

Fr Martin began his talk by contextualising Ignatian Spirituality in light of the pandemic, which "both separates and unites us". We are all "alone together". Many negative emotions run wild these days, including fear, confusion, anger, loneliness, and sadness. How can Ignatian Spirituality help? Fr Martin pointed out three classic Ignatian tools that can ease the burden: Discernment, the Examen, and Contemplation.

For clarity, he started with the life of St Ignatius of Loyola, who was born in Spain's Basque country, became soldier and knight, was wounded in battle, and during his recovery had a conversion that set him down a spiritual path. It was during the recovery period that Ignatius started reading about the life of Christ, and the lives of saints. This is when his discernment of the spirits began: the good spirit bringing hope, and the evil spirit bringing despair. "The voice of God in this pandemic is the voice of calm, of reason, of hope," said Fr Martin. This is the chance to tune in to God, because "the more you pay attention to God in your life, the more you will understand...listening and paying attention will bring recognition".

Then he discussed the Examen, essentially an examination of conscience, or in very accessible terms, "a review of your day... that helps [you] see the whole picture". For those who are not used to the Examen, it can sound confusing or even intimidating, but in 10 to 15 minutes and in five steps, Fr Martin delineates the Examen. Step 1: Put yourself in the presence of God. "Be with me now," is the phrase Fr Martin likes to use. He also recommends looking at the place where you are going to pray, which makes it easier to slide into the mind-set of prayer. Step 2: Ground yourself in gratitude. Remember all of the things you are grateful for, big and small, and savour them. Thank God for these things. Step 3: Review the day, and try to see where God was and is. Step 4: Express your sorrow for your sins. Step 5: Ask for Grace. If you struggle, Fr Martin recommends spending time on gratitude, by thinking of something that will remind you of God's presence in your life. Most of all, Fr Martin reminds us: "Are you being honest in your prayer?"

The third tool, Ignatian Contemplation-imaginative prayer-asks you to imagine yourself in a scripture scene. "Compose the scene... give yourself time, close your eyes, and envision." Using your senses and feelings, let it play out and notice what comes up within you-insights, memories, feelings. "Can you be honest with Jesus?" asked Fr Martin. "Speak bluntly. Listen to his response," he said. "God wants our honesty," is how Fr Martin succinctly put it.

And even during a painful period of loss, Ignatian Spirituality can help. "Suffering is never the last word," shared Fr Martin. "We are people of Hope," he said, "not just the Cross, but the Resurrection, too." He said: "The Spirit is not rationed", true words of consolation-in the Ignatian sense-ever more resonant in this most difficult time.
